Notes About Boys In The Army.

The Second Kentucky has been ordered to go into camp at Anniston, Ala., and may leave that point to-day.

Maj. W. C. Owens, of the Second Kentucky, who is at home on a furlough, was in the city yesterday.

Private Will Clark, of Company I, Second Kentucky, came home last week from Chickamauga, and is ill of fever, at his home on Third street.

Of the 1,043 men who went to Santiago in the ranks of the Seventy-first New York, less than 300 will return to New York city from Camp Wicoff.

Chas. McCarthy, of Company I, Second Kentucky, came home on a furlough last week from Chickamauga, and is ill of typhoid fever, at his home in this city.

Sergeant R. P. Dow, Jr., was brought home from Chickamauga last week, and is ill of typhoid fever at his home on Second street. His parents are at Olympian Springs, where Mrs. Dow is quite ill.

Private J. W. Bedford, of near this city, who enlisted in the Second Kentucky, and was rejected, and who later joined the Sixth Cavalry, arrived home Saturday night from Mount Point, N. Y. He was in camp for a time at Tampa, Fla. He has been honorably discharged.

Sailor Lee, of the battleship Indiana, who was en route to his home in Iowa, told the writer in Cincinnati Saturday night of being in the battle off Santiago. He was yet suffering from wounds in his arm and leg, and told of three bullets passing through his hat before it fell from his head. Lee had just completed his term of enlistment.

Col. J. M. Arnold For Congress.

A COVINGTON paper says: "Col. James Arnold, of Newport, has announced himself as a candidate for Congress against Col. A. S. Berry in the Sixth district. There is a story about Colonel Arnold entering the race.

"When Grover Cleveland was elected the last term Colonel Arnold, then an intimate friend of Berry, was a candidate for Collector of Internal Revenue. He secured the promise of Congressman Berry and was told by him, Arnold says, that he would get the place.

"Alex. Davzac, of Covington, got the place, and Colonel Arnold became a foe to Colonel Berry, denouncing him in unmeasured terms.

"He has influential relatives throughout the district and is very popular in Campbell and Kenton counties. He is a brother of Col. Brent Arnold, of railroad fame. The announcement will make things lively in Campbell county."

The Cincinnati Democrat thinks that lime could be better used in disinfecting military camps than used in whitewash for some officers.

GOSSIPY PARAGRAPHS.

Theatrical And Otherwise—Remarks In The Foyer.

Sol Smith Russell will have a new play this season called "Uncle Dick."

The Andrews Opera Company will appear at the Paris Opera House in December.

The Stanford Journal encourages the girls by stating that hundreds of un-kissed heroes are on their way home.

John Henshaw, who originated the expression "It's a good thing, push it along," has made another hit with the phrase "Oh, I heard what you said."

Will Smedley, a Bourbon boy whose stage name is Robert Leland, is a member of the Lorin J. Howard company, which is playing "Held By The Enemy" this week at Henck's Opera House, in Cincinnati. Mr. Smedley, who is now a citizen of Salt Lake City, has been on the stage three years, being one season with Walker Whitesides and two years with John Griffith. He has a fine stage presence, and his work is very creditable.

Parks & Richie, managers of the Paris Grand Opera House, announce that they have arranged for the War-scope to project a series of thrilling war pictures at the opera house next Monday and Tuesday nights, Sept. 5th and 6th. Among the views are the battleship Maine arriving at Havana; burial of the Maine victims; the Indiana steaming toward the Viscaya; Morro castle; soldiers' swimming school; capture of fort near Santiago; Cuban cavalry charges; battle between Americans and Spaniards; fun in a Spanish camp; firing of cannons; and views of natural scenery in Cuba.

Harry Gnocavanti, the clever "Pencil," of the Danville Advocate, prints an interesting story of one colored woman in Danville having another one arrested for "Kungering" her. The "Pencil" deprecates the fact that there is no law in Kentucky to punish "Kungering." If the Legislature would examine a Claysville "Kunger" which was presented to THE NEWS it would doubtless provide for dire punishment for the crime. The "Kunger" contains a piece of lead ore wrapped with horse hair, a magnet, a mole's foot, a broken knife blade, a half coin, a petrified twig, some negro wool, and some lizard dust—all kept in a small red flannel bag—"Kungering" should be prohibited, by all means.

THERE are eggs and eggs. The egg of yesterday looks, feels, measures and weighs like the egg of last month, but there's a difference in another respect, and that difference is worth money. Its just so with laundry. The difference between good work and poor is slight to the unpracticed discernment, but it's a difference that counts every time. It's a difference that changes your laundry bill from an expense to an investment. We do good work—it will cost no more than poor work but its worth double the difference.

BOURBON STEAM LAUNDRY.

Be Careful

No woman can be too careful of her condition during the period before her little ones are born. Neglect or improper treatment then endangers her life and that of the child. It lies with her whether she shall suffer unnecessarily, or whether the ordeal shall be made comparatively easy. She had better do nothing than do something wrong.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the one and the only preparation that is safe to use. It is a liniment that penetrates from the outside. External applications are eternally right. Internal medicines are radically wrong. They are more than humbugs—they endanger life.

Mother's Friend helps the muscles to relax and expand naturally—relieves morning sickness—removes the cause of nervousness and headache—prevents hard and rising breasts—shortens labor and lessens the pains—and helps the patient to rapid recovery.

From a letter by a Shreveport, La., woman: "I have been using your wonderful remedy, Mother's Friend, for the last two months, and find it just as recommended."

HOW LACES ARE NAMED.

Design of Pattern and Locality of Manufacture Make the Distinction.

Orlena L. Shackelford, in "Centuries of Lace," in The Woman's Home Companion, gives these interesting facts on lace manufacture:

"The nomenclature of lace is decided by certain peculiarities of pattern, mesh or stitches that belong to certain localities, and it is retained even when the localities have long ceased to produce their distinctive fabrications. Valenciennes has not for many years wrought the laces that bear its name, their manufacture having long since been transferred to Ypres, Belgium, while the chautilly laces are all made at Bayeux.

"The finest French laces are made in Normandy, the cheaper ones come from the Auvergne, which was the first French province to produce pillow lace. Bayeux, with her tributary surroundings, is the largest and best producer of black laces. Her chautilly is par excellence the finest ever made. Caen is also a center for black laces. Normandy produces good black and white blonds. Guipures are made in the Auvergne, but the finest come from the Vosges. Mirecourt furnishes fine point and pillow lace. Brussels furnishes most of the Belgian needle points, though east Flanders, Brabant and Hainault now supply large quantities. The old laces for which Binche, Bruges and Flanders were once so celebrated are no longer the mode, though still much prized by connoisseurs. This is also true of malines, or mecllin, lace and valenciennes, though the latter is returning to favor. Bruges makes a round mesh valenciennes, not so beautiful as the lozenge ground, and coarser qualities come from Courtrai and different parts of Flanders. Lille and Valenciennes formerly belonged to the Netherlands, which accounts for their early proficiency in lacemaking.

"Flemish guipures are noted for their excellence. The Belgian and French laces are the finest, in point of fabrication, in the world. Paris is to a large extent an emporium for Belgian laces. She is the birthplace of fashions and novelties and dictates lace designs, keeping alive emulation and rewarding merit through her Society of Decorative Arts. To France must be accorded the palm for black laces, while Belgium may claim it for the vaporous fineness of her points, nothing equaling in ethereal delicacy her famous point de gaze."

Nervous Prostration.

Dr. J. Curtis Webb, an eminent English physician, recently lectured on a subject. The lecturer said that hysteria was a symptom of nerve exhaustion and was a state in which the ideas controlled the body and produced morbid changes in its functions. If allowed to go on uninterrupted, nervous exhaustion and breakdown followed. The seeds of this really terrible disease were in 99 cases out of 100 sown and watered during the period of education and training of girls at and after a critical period of life. Such cases were more frequent since the introduction of the system of higher education of women, for the advocates of this made the great mistake of assuming that there was no real difference between girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 21. He mentioned the frequent occurrence of cases of anemia and breakdown among girls and attributed this to excessive mental work and the lack of healthy exercise.

He advocated golf, cycling, lawn tennis and other games as a preventive and corrective and insisted upon the necessity for regular indulgence in physical exercise. It was not work which hurt, but perseverance in work after nature had held out her danger signals in the shape of constant lassitude, loss of appetite and irregularity of functions. Nervous exhaustion sometimes occurred as a result of excessive physical exercise, and among middle aged ladies as a result of worry. The remedy in the latter case was to live easier and according to rule. The complaint was also met with in young children and was in these cases generally due to the forcing of mental faculties or constant scolding and nagging.

An Estimate of Henry George.

Henry George had all the popular gifts of the American orator and journalist, with something more. Sincerity rang out of every utterance. Sparing in book knowledge, he had hammered out his thoughts upon the forge of personal experience and showed them hot from the hammer, rude and unfinished in form. For this very reason "Progress and Poverty," a stumbling block to responsible politicians, to the economic professor foolishness, struck the common mind of the thinking people with convincing and dramatic force. The influence of this first book of serious economic import which ever reached the outer circle of the English reading public is not to be slighted. It is a matter of deep significance that such a book should have reached a circulation of far upward of 100,000 copies. Upon the pressure of the early popularity of his book Henry George threw the weight of his present personality, and his great gifts as orator and debater secured his influence and widely advertised his doctrines at a time particularly favorable to their reception.—Fortnightly Review.

A New Phrase.

A very expressive phrase was evolved by a school board inspector at Southwark police court. A woman whose child had been remiss in attending school admitted that on a previous occasion she had told a lie to save her husband, whereupon the inspector remarked that these mothers who keep their children from their classes in order to escape fines "lied like gas meters."—Notes and Queries.

A Real Need.

"Do you know a good tonic for nervous persons, Simpkins?"
"No. What I want to find is a tonic for people who have to live with them."
—Boston Traveler.

Oh, the Pain of Wheat Wanted Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism, though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.
